To Mail Draft Questionnaires on Sept. 7

Washington, Aug. 20.—(AP)—President Truman today told Selective Service boards today to start mailing classification questionnaires to single non-veteran draft registrants by Sept. 7.

The order was in a 30-page set of regulations laying down the detailed provisions for putting thousands of young men 19 through 25 into uniform under the new peace time draft act.

Under the order, as provided by the act, deferments will be given to men with dependents, to all men with necessary jobs, including farm work, conscientious objectors and some other classes of registrants. Generally, the classes are patterned after those used in the wartime draft act.

Single non-veteran men will be the first to get their questionnaires, which the boards will use to determine whether a registrant should be called for induction or deferred.

The questionnaires, which must be returned in 10 days, will go out in the order of birth dates—with the oldest first.

Beginning Sept. 30, the boards are to start mailing questionnaires to other registrants in the same fashion. Thereafter, the questionnaires will be mailed to each registrant as soon as he reaches the age of 19.

Registration begins Aug. 30 for men born after Aug. 30, 1922, and continues through Sept. 17 for younger men.

The 25-year-olds will be the first inducted. The army expects to make its first call for about 15,000 men next week and have them in uniform sometime in November.

Under the regulations issued today, each registrant between the ages of 19 through 25 will be considered available for military service until he is deferred or exempted.

The regulations providing for deferment of registrants with dependents, child, parent, grandparent, brother, or sister, or a person under 17, or one physically or mentally handicapped "whose support the registrant has assumed in good faith."

A "dependent" would include the registrant's wife, divorced wife, child, parent, grandparent, brother, or sister, or a person under 17, or one physically or mentally handicapped "whose support the registrant has assumed in good faith."

Class I: Available for military service.
Class II: Conscientious objector available for noncombatant military service.
Class III: Member of the armed forces of the United States, the National Guard, the Coast and Geodetic Survey or the Public Health Service, and certain registrants.
Class IV: Member of reserve component or student taking military training.
Class V: Registrant deferred because of civilian occupation (except agriculture).
Class VI: Registrant deferred because of agricultural occupation.
Class VII: Registrant with dependents.
Class VIII: Registrant who has completed service; sole surviving son.
Class IX: Officials deferred by law.
Class X: Ministers of religion or divinity student.
Class XI: Conscientious objector opposed to both combatant and non-combatant training and service.
Class XII: Physically, mentally, or morally unfit.
Class XIII: Registrant over the age of liability for military service.

Young Democrats to Start Poll Tax Drive

Little Rock, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The Young Democratic Clubs of Arkansas have started a new poll tax drive.

YDCA President Frank H. Cox said today the clubs are trying to encourage voters to obtain 1948 poll tax receipts, which will be required for voting in the general election Nov. 2.

Oct. 1 is the deadline for paying poll taxes for voting this November.

The Young Democrats head said the organization's efforts helped send a record of more than 300,000 persons to the polls in the Aug. 10 primary.

Rep. Nixon (R-Calif.) said the three declined behind closed doors to answer questions concerning accusations made against them in the congressional spy investigations.

Whittaker Chambers has told the House Un-American Activities Committee that the lawyers were members of a Red apparatus whose objective was to place Communists in federal jobs in the early 1930s.

Chambers has acknowledged he was a Communist from 1924 to 1937. He now is a senior editor of Time magazine.

Nixon said he and committee investigators questioned Pressman, Abt and Witt separately behind closed doors for a half hour each.

"Each witness refused to testify on the ground of self-incrimination and on other constitutional grounds."

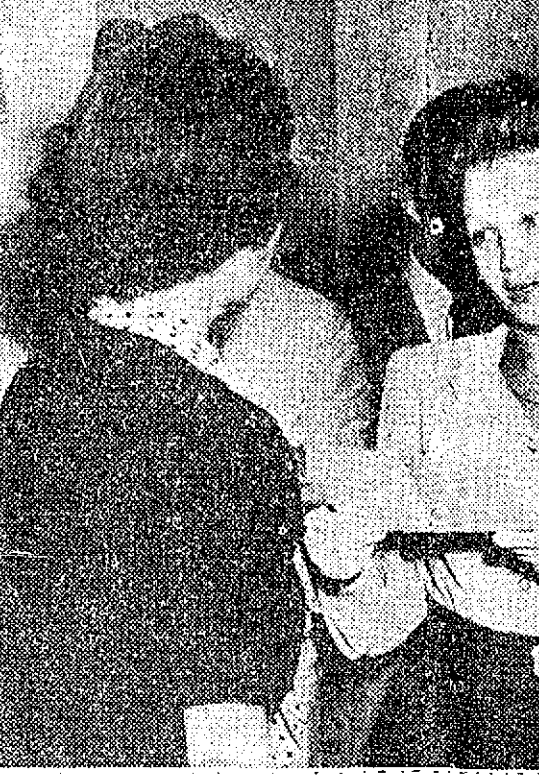

Nixon said they also refused to say whether they had belonged to the Red underground as Chambers has testified; whether they knew Chambers and half a dozen other men named by Chambers as leaders in the "underground," and whether they were members of the Communist party at the time Chambers claimed they were.

Pressman formerly was counsel for the CIO and Abt was formerly counsel for the CIO political action committee. Witt once was counsel and then secretary of National Labor Relations Board. All three served as lawyer for the New Deal Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

As this trio was being questioned, Nixon said it has become "impossible to trust the immigration service quickly produce a missing witness, J. Peters to testify in the spy hearings."

Chambers has told the committee that Peters headed the entire Red underground in the U. S. It is his demand to the commission yesterday to produce Peters or disclose his whereabouts so he can be served with a subpoena.

Credit Curbs in Effect Today

Washington, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The government today pulled a brake on free-wheeling credit.

New rules to stiffen "easy payment" loans and purchases covering most consumer goods costing from $50 to $5,000, were posted officially by the Federal Reserve board. They take effect Sept. 20.

Most consumers shrugged—they'll go along if it will help fight inflation. Businessmen were divided. Some thought it "fair and reasonable." One furniture executive denounced it as a "rationing of the poor."

These are the terms—backed up by criminal penalties and the power of the Federal Reserve Board to put a violator out of the credit business:

One third down on automobiles. Twenty per cent down on stoves, dishwashers, ironers, refrigerators, washing machines, air conditioners, radios, phonographs, television sets, sewing machines, vacuum cleaners, furniture and rugs.

A 15-month time limit on credit over $1,000, but with a minimum $70 monthly payment.

Ordinary charge accounts—usually payable in one, two or three months—are not affected. Personal loans, of the type repaid in monthly installments, are subject to the time limits. Single-payment loans and housing loans are exempt.

The order is the first fruit of the new Republican anti-inflation law, signed by President Truman Monday. He said the act is only a "first fraction of what we need to defeat rising prices."

Named "Regulation W" after the war and post-war controls which expired last November 1, the order puts an end to a big chunk of the "two dollars down and two years to pay" type of merchandise financing at least until next June. That's when the anti-inflation law expires.

More Candidates File Cost of Campaigns

Little Rock, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Campaign expense accounts filed with Secretary of State C. G. Hall today included:

D. S. Plummer, Marianna, unsuccessful candidate for chancellor of the 5th district, $1,412.

Julian Glover, Hot Springs, winner of the 18th judicial district prosecuting attorneys race, $2,791.

J. B. Reed, Lonoke, re-elected prosecuting attorney for the 17th district $340.

Some of the delegates want the party to go down the line with the Truman-Barkley ticket.

But a move is under way to have the convention pledge the electors to the States Rights or Dixiecrat candidates, Gov. Strom Thurmond, South Carolina, and Fielding Wright, Mississippi.

State convention delegates from Phillips and Lee counties already have been instructed to seek to have the party's electors pledged to the states-rights ticket.

And Amis Gothridge, chairman of the Arkansas Free Enterprise Association Executive Committee, yesterday called on Arkansas citizens to join a move in appointing anti-Truman electors at the convention.

He requested voters to "boycott" Sidney McMath, the Democratic nominee for governor, "to see that anti-Truman electors are elected x x."

McMath undoubtedly will wield great influence at the state convention.

Gov. Luney has pledged his support to the Democratic nominees for state offices, but at the same time he reiterated his opposition to President Truman.

One of the big questions is the problem of ballot certification. Should the state Democratic party pledge its electors to the Truman-Barkley ticket, the Dixiecrats will have to select their own electors to get on the November ballot.

On the other hand if the convention chooses to back Thurmond and Wright, the problem of placing the national Democratic nomination on the ticket is presented.

Get Consular Out of Country Russia Is Told

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The United States is stripping the Soviet consul general in New York of his official position because of his conduct in the Kosenkina affair and has demanded that Russia get him out of this country.

This sensational turn in the Soviet-American row over the refugee school teachers in New York was disclosed today with publication of an American note handed to the Soviet embassy last night.

The note flatly rejected Soviet charges that the teachers, Mrs. Okasana Kosenkina and Mr. and Mrs. Mikhail I. Samarin, were abducted by the anti-Soviet Tolstoy Foundation with the connivance of American officials. The three, the note said, wanted to stay in this country.

While recognizing the right of Soviet officials to protect their nationals in this country, the note said they also are entitled to the protection of the "applicable laws of the United States."

Noting that this government will not turn Mrs. Kosenkina over to Russian authorities against her will, the note said:

"The government of the United States cannot permit the exercise within the United States of the police power of any foreign government."

The State Department told Soviet Ambassador Alexander S. Panyushkin and his government that the Russian charges, including some by Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov, "have been based upon misinformation."

Moreover, the department told the Soviets in effect that the U. S. government holds Consul General Jacob M. Lomakin in New York responsible for this misinformation. He was accused of an "abuse of his position and a 'gross violation' of proper conduct of foreign officials."

As a result, the note said, the State Department is "requesting" President Truman to revoke credentials granted to Lomakin by this country and wants him to leave the United States "within a reasonable time."

The note was not signed by either Secretary of State Marshall or Undersecretary of State Robert Lovett although both took a hand in its preparation. It was signed simply "Department of State" and bore the initials "L."

While concentrating its fire on Lomakin, the United States declared its reports on the refugee teacher cases in this country "in effect that officials of the Soviet government have been engaged in conduct which is highly improper."

The note "categorically" rejected all charges made by the Soviets against American authorities.

Russian Police Enter U. S. Zone and Seize Five

By WES GALLAGHER

Berlin, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Russian military police and German police they control invaded the American sector of blockaded Berlin today in a black market raid and seized five German police belonging to U. S. sector forces.

An American military government official said the action clearly violated U. S. jurisdiction. It was the second Russian-backed raid near the city zonal borders during the day.

Earlier Russian M. P.'s and Communist-controlled German police raided downtown Potsdamer Platz, where the American, Russian and British zones meet, and arrested about 600 Germans with- out violence. This contrasted to an operation last evening when Germans stormed the Communist police, who responded with gunfire which wounded four civilians.

Ray Ashworth, U. S. public safety chief, said the Russians entered the American zone in the borough of Kreuzberg, where city street divides the sectors. A similar invasion occurred there last week which required intervention by American military police.

Ashworth said about 50 Russians and 50 Soviet sector German police corraled some 200 Germans on black market charges and pulled them over into Soviet territory in a black market raid. A similar invasion occurred there last week which required intervention by American military police.

When the Borough police chief drove up to protect them, the Russians called him over, ostensibly for discussion. Then they seized him, too. Two of the five officers succeeded in getting away from their captors, and hiding in a crowd of civilians, along with their jeep.

Russian Tommy-guns holly pursued Henry Burroughs, Associated Press photographer, when he took pictures of a raid operation at Potsdamer Platz. Burroughs had aimed his camera at a truck load of Russian troops preparing to withdraw after the raid. The soldiers saw him, and several left the truck to give chase. Burroughs ducked and scurried to the safety of the British sector.

Soviet secret police, headed by Moscow-trained Paul Markgraf, have been seizing western sector officials on sight since the split of the Berlin police department several weeks ago. Markgraf has declared his forces will not recognize sector boundaries in their operation. Thus far the west has not struck back with any similar tactics.

Cl. Frank L. Howley, U. S. commander in Berlin described Markgraf's forces as criminals.

The Russian group arrested about 600 Germans in all. The police, riding in open trucks, were escorted by Soviet army Tommygunners in American-made jeeps. There were jeers as they withdrew. Five minutes after they drove off the square was again packed with a new group of black marketeers and bawlers.

The forces converged on Potsdamer Platz, where at least five Germans were injured late yesterday in a riot. Berliners yesterday stored Russian-controlled police, who responded with gunfire as they retreated. The American, Russian and British sectors of the blockaded city meet at the Potsdamer Platz.

About 60 Russian military police and soldiers were reported to be involved in the action today. The raid was conducted swiftly and apparently without violence.

British military police and soldiers arrived at the sector borders, the Russians and their faction of the German police had cornered many Germans in the square. A German policeman who witnessed the operation from the British sector estimated from 400 to 500 Germans were rounded up.

Search for Man Who Shot State Officers

Harrison, Aug. 20.—(AP)—A 60-year-old farmer who shot two state police officers yesterday continued this morning to hold off an armed posse seeking to take him from a densely wooded area in Newton county today.

The state police substation at Harrison, which established radio contact with the posse, said there had been sporadic gunfire as state police and sheriffs officers from Newton and Boone counties continued the stage of the farm home on the Buffalo river near Hasty. The substation did not have other details.

Templeton was shot in the right shoulder and Wilson received shotgun wounds in his temple, neck and arms. Both are under observation in a Harrison hospital.

Hospital attendants said this morning that both officers, while marked improvement and were expected to recover.

Sheriff Burdine said the two officers were shot when they attempted to arrest Brown at his home about 4 p. m. yesterday.

The sheriff said he had insanity warrants for the arrest of Brown, his brother, Jim Brown, about 65, and their invalid sister, Dora Brown.

He gave the following account of the incident:

Le. Templeton and Wilson went with the sheriff to arrest Brown after a previous attempt had been unsuccessful. Jim Brown was arrested near the house earlier but Sheriff Burdine had to be called to the house.

Upon returning, Le. Templeton was shot as he attempted to gain entrance from the side of the house. Sgt. Wilson was later wounded by a blast from a shot gun as he attempted to cross a clearing.

Sheriff Burdine said he and Sheriff Johnson of Boone (Harrison county) who was with the posse took the injured men back to Harrison.

Washington Also Has a Bumper Crop Each Year and the City Prepares for Its Tourists

By ARTHUR EDSON (For Hal Boyle)

Washington.—(AP)—Let Maine rave about its potatoes. Let Iowa brag about its corn. Let Kansas holler about its wheat.

Here in Washington we're busy harvesting a bumper crop, too. I'm happy to report that, judging from the early sampling we'll have a very fine tourist yield this year.

This is a strange town. Its biggest industry, of course, is government. Its next biggest is the tourist business.

The Washington board of trade estimates that 3,500,000 people come here each year to gawk at the sights. While gawking, they part with around $60,000,000.

The board of trade figures and more. But the Edison statistical service, whose unreliability has never been questioned, clings in with a few other details.

It estimates that most of these 3,500,000 visitors will have their pictures taken while standing in front of the U. S. Capitol.

All too many of these "judging from the sampling" I've observed at work will show the capital daily, but give a wonderful view of "Ant Deser" show town, which almost all.

It takes 45 buses and hundreds of taxis leaving part time, to bring more tourists to the places they want to see.

Don Atwood, who manages a bus line, says these are the goals of the average visitor, in the approximate order of their popularity:

1. The White House.
2. The Capitol.
3. The Smithsonian Institution.
4. The Bureau of Engraving.
5. The city.
6. Mount Vernon.

Gambling Houses in East St. Louis Are Closed

East St. Louis, Ill., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Police Commissioner John T. English, who had promised a report on gambling in East St. Louis said today: "The places are down—that's all I will say."

Chief of Police Henry Dislip said police "went around yesterday to several places and found them closed. He added the officers did not go inside because they had no search warrants and that a full investigation was impossible because of a lack of time and manpower."

English ordered an investigation after a city councilman, Wednesday at which City Five Commissioner Richard T. Carter said he had heard of at least handbook operators who were open for business.

There was no brush between British and Russian forces. The lieutenant colonel commanding the British troops amicably with the Russian troop commander after the raid.

The tension was greater last evening. Black marketeers fleeing arrest even involve Russians and Western military police in a fight among themselves, thus creating an international incident.

The eye of most Berliners turned toward Moscow where East-West talks on the German crisis have been going on since July 31.

In the Soviet capital informed observers predicted the three Western envoys would meet today with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov. There were indications that negotiations were possibly nearing completion.

Believes Key to Situation in China Is Economically and Not Politically

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

China's disastrous economic and military crisis had me humped over my desk in a brown study yesterday when my friend Dr. Chen Lai-Pu dropped in to say how he did and have a little chat.

The good doctor being vice-president of the Chinese legislative Yuan (national parliament), and an economic expert among many notable achievements, I promptly challenged him to give me a solution for his country's ills. He grinned — as well he might on being asked to solve off-hand one of the world's major problems — but nodded and then proceeded to outline a plan which I found so interesting that I'm going to repeat it here in substance, without trying to use the doctor's language. It would be difficult to quote him exactly, anyway, because he talks as much with his very expressive hands as he does with his tongue. He is a striking personality.

Dr. Chen believes the key to the solution is economic and not political. He says that China's economic system is wholly wrong, and that until this is put right there can be no lasting military success or economic recovery.

What's the matter with the system? Just this: It was devised to serve commercial interests almost solely, whereas China is chiefly agricultural. Plenty of help for the big business man but little or none for the farmer who is the backbone of the country. The economy provides for the short term loans required by commercial houses, but can't handle long-term loans for the farmer.

Dr. Chen would arbitrarily change the Chinese system and base it mainly on the requirements of agriculture. He admitted rather ruefully that as a matter of fact he had put forward such a program and it had been approved by the government. However, it hasn't been implemented thus far. He is returning to China in the immediate future and hopes to get some action.

"But what about the Civil War with the Chinese Communists?" I asked.

Dr. Chen remarked that he isn't a military man. However, he has some very definite views about how the military side should be handled. In the first place it is futile for the government to keep chasing Reds all over the place, expending men and material, under present conditions. Military success must be premised on economic reform, and without that reform the war could run on indefinitely.

The doctor pulled over a sheet of paper and drew a serpentine line on it to represent the mighty Yangtze river which winds from east to west across central China. He put some crosses on the southern bank, and they represented the Communist forces.

He would drive all the Reds north of the Yangtze, and then would station his government army on the southern bank to hold the line and keep the Communists in the north. It would be a holding job for the Nationalists, that's all.

Sure, that would cut the country in halves — would create two separate states if you want to put it that way. But the southern half which is held by the government has great resources. With economic reform the Nationalist government could get on its feet. When it would be prepared to handle the Chinese Reds to the north of the Yangtze and regulate the country. Well, that's the story. It would guson, according to Montedonico. Then when the checks were returned to the bank payment, Morris would either post the amount against the false Ferguson account, or would destroy the check.

Montedonico said that the money taken to keep the false account in balance was taken from one of the bank's regular depositor's accounts, usually an account which was seldom drawn on, or which was drawn on at regular interval for small amounts.

Spa Hurler Is Two Games Away From 20 Won

By The Associated Press

Young Dickie Straus, Hot Springs crack right-hander, is within two victories of becoming a 20-game winner in his first season in the Cotton States League. Straus, who has been limited to three games in the first inning, has scored a 4-2 triumph on his home field last night. He has lost six decisions. The hurler started fast, scoring three runs in the first inning, and added another in the seventh for insurance.

Third place Clarksdale's Planters came from behind to defeat El Dorado 7-3. They pushed four runs in the seventh inning to take the lead and an eighth inning two-run homer by Ernie Vlasquez put the game on ice.

The Natchez Indians scored all their runs in the first three innings as they trimmed the Helena Seaporters 6-5. The Indians pounded 11 hits off three Seaporters pitchers but had to call on three moundmen of their own to hold the Seaporters to seven safeties.

A shutout sewed up for Greenville until the ninth inning when Catcher John Martin threw wild to third, allowing Pine Bluff's only score. Martin, Greenville catcher, had a perfect night at the plate, with a home run and two singles.

Fair Enough

New York, Aug. 18 — The citizen who rejects unionism for honest reasons untinged with class hatred nevertheless finds himself loudly damned as an advocate of oppression and a paid stooge of the National Association of Manufacturers.

He is also a Fascist, although unionism is an essential part of Fascism and all workers in Italy and Germany had to join the appropriate unions and conform to oppressive rules under a system which roughly duplicated the condition of American workers under Roosevelt during the great war boom.

All of the notorious criminals of the movie and building service unions, the heavy construction unions and the liquor-trade unions of New York relied on two loud robbing workers and employers and generally imposing on the public. They were agents of "democracy" and all who fought them were either "Fascists" or "Communists." They were some of the most heinous criminals of the evidence finally shown as the evidence.

The basic fact that American unionism is of itself, a badness corrupting politics, government and the public morals and economy has been avoided by all but a few reckless arguers who defeated themselves by taking that extreme position. It is the correct position, to be sure, but it has been very unpopular that even the most reasonable intellectuals were shocked by the arguers who did not listen. By a persistent but not very clever propaganda, unionism and "collective bargaining" have been sold to almost the entire public as synonymous and almost sacred principles. Skipping the question whether unionism ever could be just and fair and moral, we come at once to the fact that it has been a corrupt force in the country as it gained strength and public favor. Possibly, it could have been a boon, but the fact is that it wasn't. It has been a curse, and we have to respect facts.

It should have been plain before the situation developed that if we ever gave a few ambitious, rough-and-tumble union politicians the power that we finally did confer on Dan Tobin, of the teamsters, Will L. Hutchison, of the carpenters, and John Lewis, of the steelworkers, they would make politics within their unions to keep themselves in power. The truth did not develop, however, until the test was made. Now we find that Tobin has been president of the teamsters for 11 years and at present rules half a million Americans by a code of laws and discipline which forbid by any public or moral law. He is actually clothed in majesty, a ludicrous old babbling if you insist, but a tyrant of righteously furies and fond of panoply.

For 41 years he has ruled the teamsters and, in recent years, he has reached out and, in the manner of Hitler, "governed" his beloved minorities. Mr. Tobin has enfolded whole classes of workers having absolutely no connection with horse or motor transportation. They weren't consulted. They were subjugated like Austria.

Hutchison became president of the carpenters in 1915, 33 years ago. And, like Tobin, who found princely royal treasures on his princely sons, Mr. Hutchison provided that his own son should become the crown prince.

Yes, it serves the subject as Hitler promoted strength through joy. But it also demands obedience and crowds out the rest of the subject. And who decides what the subject shall be taught in the union's schools? Would Dubinsky, or any such paternalist with the interests of his subjects at heart, permit the rest of the union to be taught anything but for them or for the union?

The great expansion of the activities and purposes of unionism has been at once its most attractive and seductive development and its most ominous. It has claimed more authority than government. The great bosses are still scheming toward a day when they or some few of them will "elect" and control a president and Congress and rule the people unofficially according to the brutal autocratic plan inherent in almost all union constitutions.

They can be stopped, but first the people must get rid of the first union that for all its faults, unionism is good.

It is bad. It is a corruption that will be fatal if it is not stopped.

Bobcats Hold First Practice Session

By Hugh B. Fullerton, Jr.

By JOE REICHLER
(For Hugh Fullerton, Jr.)

New York, Aug. 20 — (AP)—Babe Ruth was talking about baseball, something which wasn't very much different from the talk he had been having for the last six months before he died. The place was Tampa, Fla., one of his stops in his tour of the spring training camps.

"My best years were between 1921 and 1923," he said. "The greatest ball club I was with was the Yankees of 1927."

The finest man I ever met in baseball was Miller Huggins. My like Bob Meusel and myself were too busy having fun to pay much attention to Huggins' words. We were listening to him gabbling at us when he was trying to keep the whole wild gang in line.

Home Run Secret
"You want to know why I hit a lot of homers? Well, what I did was to get the proper stance. I shift my feet so I'd be well balanced. That was the most important thing. When I saw the pitcher I liked, I'd take a swing. The very second that I felt the bat hitting onto the ball, I would give the ball the extra twist, and give the ball the old golf follow-through — and that was that."

"I don't think anybody around today will break my home run record. That young Ralph Kiner of the Pirates might have had a chance if he had been left-handed. I don't think any right-handed batter ever hit more than 60 homers. There simply are too many right-handed pitchers around and not enough southpaws."

No Extra Pants
How about those strikeouts in pinstripes?
"I can tell you about that, too, because I felt that way often enough. When I swung and missed, I was looking out with lots of customers looking on. I felt like a guy that had gone walking in Times Square at nighttime, and a big wind came along, and there wasn't anybody around with a blanket or an extra pair of pants."

100,000 to See All-Star Card Game

Chicago, Aug. 20 — (AP)—The annual lake-front football pageant will be on display in Soldier Field tonight when the college all-stars meet the champion Chicago Cardinals in the 13th annual game of the series.

A crowd of 100,000 or more is expected to watch the collegians attempt to make it three victories in a row over the professional champions. Last year the stars defeated the Chicago Bears, 16 to 0, while in 1946 they blanked the Los Angeles Rams by the same score.

The National Football League champions, however, hold the edge in the series with seven victories, five defeats and two ties. Tonight marks the first appearance of Coach Jimmy Conzelmann's Chicago Cardinals in the pre-season football spectacle.

Notre Dame's Frank Leahy, coach of the all-star squad for the second consecutive year, will aim a twin offensive at the Cardinals in the form of a T-formation unit. Notre Dame's Johnny Lattack and a single wing combination spearheaded by Charlie Connelley, Mississippi's great passer. On the single wing side also will be such expert passers as Bob Chambers, Michigan's Herman Weenover, and Michigan's Howard Yerges, also of Michigan.

The collections are expected to fill the air with passes, with Lattack, Chambers and Chappius doing much of the tossing.

The Cardinals have nowhere the depth of the team that Leahy has, but they'll have splendid passing as long as Mal Kutner and Bill Dwyer are around to catch Paul Brown's passes and good running in the hands of Angusman are sound of wind and limb.

A. U. Professor Named to Special Committee

Fayetteville, Aug. 20 — (AP)—Dr. M. C. Kik, associate professor of agricultural chemistry at the University of Arkansas, has been appointed a member of a special committee to study the conditions of the foundation for the National Foundation.

The National Foundation was established in 1942 to promote cultural cooperation between the United States and India and to help increase Indian national efficiency. Dr. Kik, who is a member of the foundation's American Advisory Board in 1947 because of his research work on rice, is the newly organized national committee to study the conditions of the foundation for the National Foundation.

Rocks Help Vols Pull Ahead

By The Associated Press

The Nashville Vols have big bats; they know how to use them; and they do use them.

Last night these bats: 1. Broke a tie in the last of the 11th inning to give the Vols a 7-6 victory over the Chattanooga Lookouts.

2. Set a new Southern Association team home run record for one season.

In addition, Charlie Workman who slammed the game-winning homer came within two circuits of tying the league record of 50 set by Nashville's Jim Poole in 1930.

Workman hit two home runs during the evening. Others were struck by Charlie Gilbert and Trojan gridders know in advance just what he expects of them. He gave each a copy of his code, which includes these points:

"You must feel we are going to win every game. A team that won't be beaten can't be beaten."

"Bustle. There is no substitute for it and never will be."

"There is no stationary period. You must progress or deteriorate."

"Think in terms of team success rather than personal glory."

"You must be in line physical condition."

"Profanity is absolutely taboo. It indicates a lack of knowledge."

"Illegal tactics are never tolerated on the football field."

"Education comes first. Keep your school work up at all times."

In all, Diddy's code contains 32 points. It is summed up in his belief that "Football must come from your heart."

Cards Plenty Strong Says Hannegan

By ALAN MERRITT
St. Louis, Aug. 20 — (AP)—Robert E. Hannegan today, in the hottest statement he has made since his Cardinal system is in the shape of a young player in baseball.

The Cardinal president was incensed by opinions published in the Cardinals as well as other cities that the Cardinals are coming to an end because adequate placements are not available for regulars past their prime.

"I'm sick and tired of hearing these rumors and stories that the Cardinals organization has been permitted to become decadent and run at the seams," the former postmaster general said in an interview.

In a glance at the National League averages shows three or four Cardinals right at the top in batting in pitching."

He also noted St. Louis is just behind the first-place Boston Braves.

His Irish eye, Hannegan pointed out that 15 of the organization's 21 farm clubs are in first divisions of their leagues, with several in first place.

"Only one of 16 major league clubs (Brooklyn) has a better record among its minor league clubs than the Cardinals as of today."

"I make further observation that we are particularly well fortified with pitchers in our minor league teams. In fact, our minor league clubs are evidencing interest in those pitchers."

Hannegan, who with Fred Saigh and others bought the Cardinals from Sam Breadon last November, pointed out that both the Red Birds Triple-A club, Rochester of the International League and Columbus of the American Association, are in third place.

From each of a number of players in the St. Louis system as likely-looking prospects.

Among those he mentioned are Jackie Collum, right-handed pitcher from Sam Breadon last November, who has won 21 games and lost two for St. Joseph, Mo., which is first place in the Class C West-

Brecheen Is Headed for 20 Games

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Now that Harry (The Cat) Brecheen has demonstrated he can puzzle the hitters during the daytime as well as at night, the St. Louis Cardinals' ace hurler appears a cinch to realize his ambition to become a 20-game winner.

For years the slender 32-year-old southpaw from Ada, Okla., has been known as a whiz at night, but no more than a good pitcher under the sun.

Now the daytime jinx seems to be conquered. Brecheen pitched one of his best games of the year yesterday, shutting out the Cincinnati Reds on four scattered hits, 4-0.

It was his fourth victory against two losses in day games and his 15th triumph of the year. He has won 17 and lost two at night.

Brecheen struck out seven to wrest the strident leadership from Cincinnati's Ewell Blackwell, 107 to 105.

The Cards made only six hits against Kenny Ralstonberger, but put together four in the sixth to score three runs. The other was tallied in the fourth on Terry Moore's home run.

Rip Sewell hurled his fifth victory of the season over the Chicago Cubs as the fourth place Pittsburgh Pirates prevailed 2-1. It was Sewell's eighth win of the year.

The 40-year-old right-hander was touched for eight hits but was tough in the clutch, standing 11 runners.

The Philadelphia Athletics regained second place in the American League race, turning back the Boston Red Sox, 10-3, in Boston. Connie Mack's fighting A's knocked out of the runner-up spot by the Red Sox yesterday, pounded five Boston pitchers for 14 hits. They now trail the pre-selling Cleveland Indians by two and a half games.

Allie Reynolds held the Washington Senators to five hits in pitching the fourth place New York Yankees to an easy 3-1 victory. Reynolds helped his own cause with a two-run single during a six-run fourth inning against Early Wynn.

Rising Market Normal Says Government

By United Press
Zooming prices at the nation's livestock markets today for hogs and cattle held steady within the margins of their husband's paychecks.

Department of Agriculture experts said seasonal scarcity would tend to hold the price of meat on the hoof at high levels, for some time. Experts in the meat trade said the price boosts must be passed on to the housewife.

But there was evidence today that the petroleum rebellion to force meat prices down by buyers strikes might be having some effect at the retail level.

San Francisco butchers complained that choice cuts of meat were beginning to pile up in the refrigerators due to the activities of "Mama's OPA," a group of women pledged to buy no meat costing more than 65 cents a pound.

At Cincinnati, a chain of grocery stores sold pork chops at 65 cents a pound, down from 97, and back at 53, down from 57. Some cuts sold as low as 25 cents a pound.

The Labor Department reported a slight decrease in wholesale prices last week. The department said its index of 500 commodities stood at 169 per cent of the 1926 average, just one tenth of one per cent below the all-time peak reached the week previous.

However, the index was still one tenth of a per cent above the four week previous and 10.7 per cent higher than the corresponding week in 1947.

Fulbright in 'I Told You So' Attitude

Little Rock, Aug. 19 — (AP) — Senator Fulbright, who suggested that President Truman resign after the Republicans gained control of Congress, took an "I told you so" stand today.

The Arkansas senator blamed "division and jealousy" between the GOP Congress and the Democratic president for the fact that rising living costs have gone unchecked.

Fulbright suggested nearly two years ago that Mr. Truman step out so the party controlling Congress could also have charge of the White House.

In a telephone interview with the Little Rock Arkansas Democrat today, Fulbright declared from his home in Fayetteville:

"We shouldn't suffer from these divisions of power that hit us in difficult times. xxx There is a division and jealousy which prevents us accomplishing many things which should be accomplished."

Furthermore, the senator said there is little chance Congress will do anything about inflation since it has "failed to do anything" in the last two years.

It is not true to say nothing can be done, "he said, "but it is fairly accurate to say nothing will be done."

Fulbright asserted he didn't want to become involved in the dispute over the Arkansas Democratic gubernatorial nomination and added that he will "vote for the Democratic nominee" in November.

Official returns from the Aug. 10 primary gave Sid McMath, Hot Springs prosecutor, the nomination over former Attorney General Jack vance to any specific revisions.

There seems little doubt but that he will defend the general principles of the act.

Democratic National Chairman J. Howard McGrath forecast such a stand in statement last night commenting on the visit of House Speaker Joseph W. Martin, Jr., to Dewey in Albany.

McGrath said Martin's assertion that the Republicans will bring about the record of the GOP-controlled 80th Congress hangs an "embarrassment" around Dewey's neck.

McGrath said the "failures" of the Taft-Hartley Act will plague Dewey and his running mate, Gov. Earl Warren of California, in the campaign.

President Truman is expected to add what he can to that plugging in his Detroit labor day speech.

Mr. Truman leaves today (noon, EST) for a nine-day river and coastal cruise aboard the presidential yacht Williamsburg to work on his campaign speech and get in some rest ahead of his forthcoming political tours.

'Axis Sally' Is En route to U. S. to Stand Trial

Frankfurt, Germany, Aug. 20 — (AP) — "Axis Sally" left for the United States today to face trial for treason.

She is Mildred D. Gillars, formerly of Portland, Me. During the war she broadcast appeals to American soldiers to stop fighting. She was arrested soon after American troops entered Germany, released briefly and then jailed.

Holt, Little Rock, by more than 10,000 votes. But Holt has charged the GOP Congress and the Democratic president for the fact that rising living costs have gone unchecked.

"Good bye, Frankfurt," she said when boarding an army transport plane for Washington. She wore a flowing black fur cloak and black stockings.

Photographers' flash bulbs popped.

"This is quite a bombardment," she said. "But I'm used to them, you know—I mean bombs during the war."

Reporters asked what her feelings were on going back to the United States.

"When in Germany, do as the Germans do," she said without explanation.

She appeared in good health and spirits. Her face was tanned and her lips rouged. Her gray hair was combed back and tied with a ribbon.

She was accompanied on the C-54 sky-master by a WAC officer. They took seats side by side.
